The pleasant thoughts of dawning you are parched away by toil and care, and leave the dusty road of truth. The trodden path of duty bare: And yet our pleasant thoughts are true although they pass like morning dew. They pass from us, their light is shed On broken works of weary hands; They pass from us, their sweetness fed Some noble toil in happler lands; Yet every man beneath the sun Doth all his deeds to be undone.

In thirsty fields of barren air
The dew is born to fall in vain;
Our thoughts go up to heaven, and ther
They change to mists of golden rain,
Whereof the fourfold fountain head
In Paradise is always fed.

Our thoughts, that seem to come and go Abide indeed in God on high;

-It is said that Mr. Dana, of the Sun, was never more earnest about anything in his life than he is in presenting the name of Horace Greeley for the next Governor-of New York.

-Mr. Thurlow Weed sailed for Europe Wednosday. He goes out for the benefit of his health, by the advice of his physician. The unmistable symptoms of npoplexy and paralysis which have shown themselves in his case, have caused much anxiety on the part of Mr. Weed's Infimate friends.

The Rev. Peter Cartwright, the celebrated veteran Methodist, delivered a lecture in Chicago last week, in which he related his experiences. Among them he stated that at about the time them he stated that a goodt he the dated his conversion, "a gentleman called at our cabin with a pack of cards, a fiddle and a race horse. I was an apt scholar, and soon won the cards, the fiddle and the race horse."

He says that in his opinion, there is no man, either in civil or military life, to whose prudence and patriotism the administration of the Government could be confided, who would justify in an equal degree the assurance of the people in its safe and aucoessful guidance, and in the protection and arrancement of all the great interests of the country.

THE Washington correspondent of the Detroit Tribune writes: "The object of the present movement against McCulloch is to gain sole possession of the Treasury for the benefit of the Democratic party during the Presidential compaign. That is why the National Fulcingmer is so ferre in its demundations of McCulloch."

Editors Intelligencer:

of men who loved their country, in 1861, and throughout the war. There were men here and present in this "great uprising," giving aid and comfort, and money to help to wrest the power of the State Government from loyal hands, who were with the rebel Gen. Jones when he passed through the county and stole two hundred horses, burned houses, robbed atores and murdered in cold blood three citizens of the county. There were men here who voted for the ordinance of secession and threatened with hanging all who opposed it. There were others who held office under the State government and who refused to take the oath to SHRIVER, OF WHEELING, W. VA., DATED SEPTEMBER 11, 1860.

"The experiment of transplating the game fish of the Ohio river to the head waters of the Potomac river at the town of Cumberland, Allegany county, Md., was contemplated by me before the completion of the Baltimore and Ohio Ralliroad to Wheeling, but no satisfactory mode suggested itself until after the completion of that work in 1853. In the following year I made my first trip, but made several afterwards in the same year, conveying the fish in a perforated bucket made to fit the opening in the water tank of the locomotive, which being supplied with fresh water at the several stations kept the fish alive, irash and carefully selected. On the arrival at Cumberland they were put into the basin of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, from which they had egress and ingress to the Potomac river and its tributaries above and below the dam at Cumberland.

"I am pleased to learn from yourself and others that this, my first piscatorial experiment, the object of which was to supply the waters of the Potomac view and the varieties of game fish equal in size and quality to any that ever inhabited the fresh waters of any country, has been crowned with complete success, and I feel that I have there were not five in the body. They appointed a great many as delegates to the pow-wow at Grafton, who voted for the ordinance of secession and were undisguised in their opposition to the new State of West Virginia. When the "great uprising" came to town it was in regiments of two and brigades of three. No body knew it was going on except those of the Klam. Now, doubtless, this will be paraded as a great affair, and the usual lies will be manufactured to make people at a distance think that Monongalia is getting weak in the knees. The loyal men of Monongalia met this party in war and overthrew it, they will meet it in peace and annihilate it.

If the meeting here, where the proportion of disloyal to loyal men contained so much of the meanness and dust licking venom of the toadying copperheadism, what in God'a name must have been the character of the "great uprising" in the far interior and border countles?

The "old man of the sea," still clings to them. Their party was "born under > MORNING DEW. The dew drops vanish one by one, That seem to glisten everywhere, Drawn by the kisses of the sun into the thirsty-lap of air; They vanish, and they do not die, Athough the thirsty road be dry.

The dew at night will fall in vain On broken herbage by the way. The dew will change to gentle rain, And waken far-off flowers to May Yet herbs and flowers in every sky, In every land are born to die.

Our pleasant thoughts are like the dew One half of heaven, one half of earth; They seen to die, but they renew The sacrament of their sweet birth: But fruitful plants and deeds of men Are earth, and turn to earth again.

Go where we will, affectation of being something she is not meets us in woman like a ghost we cannot lay or a misk we cannot sweep away. In the hollest and the most trivial things allke we find it penetrating everywhere, even in church and at her prayers when the pretty penifent, rising from her lengthy orison, lifts her eyes and looks about her furtively to see who has noticed her self-abasement and to whom her picturesque piety has commended itself. turesque piety has commended itself.
All sorts and patterns of good girls and pleasant women are very dear and delightful; but the pear lof great price is the thoroughly natural and unaffected woman—that is, the woman who is truthful to her core, and who would as all title condescend to act a pretence as she would dare to tell a lie.

He fell in love with his patron's daughter, who reciprocated his attachment. Her father protested, and the lovers arranged for an elopement, which was exposed and frustrated by a servant. The young man was asked to an interview with the young lady's father, who said that he 'loved and honored him beyond ulterance; but you cannot marry my daughter for the reason that she is your six fer?" We have this fact from the high est authority, but do not think it necessary to mention names."

We, together with all loyers of augling, are greatly indebted to Mr. Geo. W. Harrison, Collector of Internal Revenue in the Fourth Maryland District, for the following extract from a letter, written by W. W. Shriver, Esq., of Wheeling, in 1860. Had Mr. Shriver lived in the heroic times of Rome or Greece he would have received a civic crown as a public benefactor; as it is we hope he will ever be held in grate-ful remembrance by all who cast the fly or troll the spoon in the waters of the lordly Potomae: EXTRACT FROM A LETTER FROM W. W. SHRIVER, OF WHEELING, W. VA., DATED SEPTEMBER 11, 1860.

Editors Intelligencer:

In your issue of June 30th, ult., you speak of certain parties boasting of a "great uprising" of the Democracy and Conservatives in the "mountain rastnesses" of West Virginia, and you sak the friends in the country to report to you the facts concerning these "great uprisings." Let the report from "old Monongalia" be heard. The "great uprising," here took place a few days since. It was a general ingathering, such as has not been held since 1861. Men were here who crawled in holes and cayes to escape the righteous wrath held office under the State government and who redused to take the oath to support the re-organized government. There were others who were active in discourseing enlistment in the Union army and opposed everything that was calculated to lead to the overthrow of their schemes of secession. There was a fair sprinkling of statesmen in embryo.—Tray, Blanche, and Sweet-heart, who sucked Whig milk, and are now irying to learn to like Copperhead whisky. Whilst of men who gave a whole-hearted support to the war, and the measures for its successful prosecution, without an "if" or a "but," or who did not vote import to the war, according without for its successful prosecution, without an "if" or a "but," or who did not vots for the election of a peace candidate for Desidency in 1864, it is though. The

The "old man of the sea," still clings to them. Their party was "born under an eclipse" of rebellion, and is "rigged with curses dark."
